

EMS Sign Post – A Calm Voice In A Time Of Crisis

Community health is a critical municipal service!

Emergency preparedness increases efficiency and effectiveness in times of need. EMS Sign Post provides first responders access to critical patient information when it's needed most.

At the time of an emergency, first responders can scan a QR code or Near Field Chip device, and quickly access critical information needed to help the initial assessment and diagnosis of the patient.

How it works (see a video demonstration here)

- ✓ Citizens pre-load their critical medical information into a secure database.
- ✓ Should an emergency call arise, first responders can securely access the patients' medical information through means of a QR code or an NFC tag.
- ✓ The critical patient facts are immediately retrieved and displayed on a cell phone or tablet of the EMS professional, providing potentially life-saving information at the time of the emergency.
- ✓ The access codes can be stored in a central place in the home, for example as a magnet on the refrigerator, and can be attached as a card on a keychain.

Provide your citizens more efficient and effective emergency services.
